Washington DC Spring Update

91st Annual Market Structure Conference

JW Marriott Grande Lakes, Orlando, FL

September 18-20, 2024

Dear Colleague,

Thank you for your interest in STA's 2024 Sponsorship Opportunities!

A record number of organizations sponsored STA in 2023 because they view us as a unique and cost-effective resource to understand key issues in Washington DC, assist in the career development of their employees, and help promote their brand. Combining sponsor support with the steady uptick in conference registrations over the past three years, we are prepared to fulfill our mission to educate and inform the securities industry on important market structure issues.

If you are considering an STA sponsorship, we encourage you to act quickly—many firms commit early to maximize the year-long benefits in their sponsorship package, including representation on select STA Advisory Committees and valuable reports from DC.

In 2024, STA will host two important industry events, with some exciting changes!

In April, we will present our Washington DC Spring Update in person at The St. Regis Washington, DC. This one-day event will be exclusive to sponsors and will feature congressional members and regulatory leaders.

Then, in September, we will host our 91st Annual Market Structure Conference at the JW Marriott Grande Lakes Orlando. With a larger, more self-contained conference area, we can offer a wider range of sponsorships, expand networking opportunities, allow for more participatory activities and enjoy greater program flexibility.

Four levels of sponsorship will be offered again for 2024. On the pages that follow, you will find sponsor benefits, extensive branding opportunities, pricing and other important sponsor information.

Each year brings new issues on both the regulatory and legislative fronts, and STA will continue to be a valuable industry resource when it comes to matters in Washington DC. We look forward to serving our members, sponsors and all industry market participants in 2024.

On behalf of the entire 2024 STA Board of Governors, we look forward to partnering with you!
